Can the Leigh Art Trail float your boat?

THERE is an intriguing new venue at this year's Leigh Art Trail – a floating gallery on a barge in the marina.

The Estuary Gallery Barge is the project of fine art photographer Ian James and artist wife Josephine, who will be exhibiting their work along with other artists in the 71ft converted hull.

"We are delighted we have been able to open in time for the trail," Ian said.

"We have made tremendous progress since we bought the barge last October."

The art trail, which opened last week-end ends on Saturday, June 11.

The Estuary Gallery is open from 10am to 5pm until then.

'GRAVE ROBBERS' ARE A 'DISGRACE'

LYNNE Sowter was heart-broken when she found the granite blocks edging her parents' grave had been stolen.

She had gone to Sutton Road's Southend Cemetery with her daughter Shirelle Wildman-Tutt, last Friday, as it was her own birthday, to lay flowers at her parent's grave.

She discovered thieves had stolen granite from the small grave garden.

"I could hardly believe my eyes. It was a real shock," Shirelle said. "I find it hard to accept anyone could sink so low as to steal from a grave."

"The granite had not been there very long.

"Although the grave had been there since granddad passed away 28 years ago, my grandmother died only two years ago, and recently we had the gravestone completed with her name and decided to add the granite blocks to make it look nice and neat."

Shirelle said the blocks were expensive and heavy.

"It was no easy matter for anyone to take them away, it must have taken several trips to get them to a waiting car. We all know flowers or vases get stolen in graveyards, but you do not expect actual edging stone to be taken. I am absolutely disgusted."

The theft has been reported to cemetery office staff who are investigating.

Airport business park gets off to flying start

PLANS to create thousands of new jobs close to London Southend Airport have taken another step towards take off with the appointment of local property agents to market the project and take enquiries from potential tenants.

Henry Boot Development has named Kemsley LLP to market the £150m Airport Business Park Southend (ABP Southend), a joint venture between them and Southend-on-Sea Borough Council.

Southend Council leader John Lamb said: "I am very pleased that this project continues to move forwards.

"Infrastructure works are due to commence in the autumn, and the pace is really starting to pick up with this appointment.

"This project offers a once-in-a-generation opportunity to bring in significant private sector investment and generate thousands of new jobs in attractive, modern business premises in the area around Southend Airport.

"We are delighted that we have also been successful in leveraging £3.2m local growth fund money from the South East Local Enterprise Partnership to help kickstart the project."

Proposed plans for the one million square foot development include space for advanced technology businesses, high-specification office space, a new Anglia Ruskin University Medical Technology campus, an innovation centre and a hotel.

The development is expected to attract occupiers from the medical, aviation, advanced engineering and manufacturing sectors.

It is envisaged that ABP Southend will attract MedTech and advanced technology occupiers. Kemsley LLP and Dedman Gray will be working closely with Henry Boot Developments, Southend Council and the Essex Investment Office to promote this business park to local, national and international businesses.

● A FORMER teacher, school governor and magistrate from Southend has been charged with possessing indecent images.

Vincent Copeland, 60, of Leigh Road, is due to appear at Ipswich Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, June 21.

He was charged on Saturday, May 28, with three counts of possessing indecent images of children.

Mr Copeland is a former teacher of Thorpe Bay School – now called Futures Community College. He was also a governor at St Thomas More High School in Westcliff and Our Lady of Lourdes Primary School in Leigh.

He is free on conditional bail until his court hearing.

● A SEVENTY-FOUR-YEAR-OLD from Leigh is running three major races to raise money for London Air Ambulance.

Clive Donnicco, who has completed the Vitality London 10,000 challenge, will run the Southend Half Marathon on June 12, and the Morrisons Great Newham London Run on July 17. He said: "Some local people will have an accident or life-threatening illness while in the capital. The air ambulance team works alongside London Ambulance Service to provide rapid, effective treatment."

Anyone can donate at virginmoneygiving.com/clivedunnico.

● ELEVEN drivers were found without MOT certificates during a police road safety swoop and issued with £100 penalty notices.

The Southend operation, on June 2, also caught 25 motorists using a mobile while driving, 30 without seat belts, 16 speeding and one shooting a red light.

Two vehicles were seized because drivers did not have valid insurance documents.

Sex abuse warning for young people in Essex

A CHARITY that works with young people in Essex has warned of "great challenges" in protecting children from abuse.

The Children's Society said on Thursday June 2 that it receives a phone call each week about sexual abuse in the county.

Charity chief executive, Matthew Reed, was speaking at an event of Essex staff and supporters at Chelmsford Cathedral to mark 30 years in the county.

He said while many lives had been transformed by the work of The Children's Society in Essex, the charity would need to "redouble its efforts".

Commenting on the future, he said: "I'd love to be able to say our work in Essex is done. But I'm afraid things aren't that simple. Across the county we're still receiving requests every week to help young people struggling with drug problems or facing sexual exploitation.

"We have great challenges ahead and very much need the continued support of the people of Essex so that we can continue to help young people across the county for years to come."

Mr Reed's comments come four months after Essex Police was criticised by Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary for "serious weaknesses" in safeguarding children.

Mr Reed did not refer to police or social services in the county, but raised concerns about "systems and structures which sometimes trap people".

WARNING: Matthew Reed with Kerry Clancy-Horner, area manager of The Children's Society East

He added: "We have to redouble our efforts and continue to focus to have aspiration for every young person to flourish and realise their potential.

"We are celebrating what's been achieved in so many ways with thousands of young people in the past 30 years. Across this county we are part of a movement striving for better futures for young people.

"We are also challenging the systems and structures which sometimes trap children who can't escape their situations."

Speaking after the event, Mr Reed described The Children's Society's services in Essex as "a shining example of what we do to support vulnerable children across the country".

He added: "It's amazing to reflect back on the thousands of young people our services in Essex have helped over the past three decades."

If you go down to the woods today...

A GROUP of youngsters visited ancient Essex woodland on Friday June 3, for a bit of fun.

They joined in a morning of indoor activities – painting, drawing and colouring – as well as enjoying high-jinks in Belfairs Wood in Leigh-on-Sea.

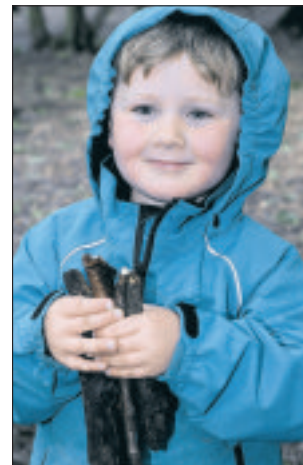

Essex Wildlife Trust runs Forest Friday sessions for the under-sevens at Belfairs Woodland Centre, to encourage young children to gain more understanding of nature and to play in the woodlands.

"It's great to see the youngsters enjoying the woods and it's important for them to learn to appreciate nature," said Greg Borgartz, who manages the centre.

It was officially opened by BBC Springwatch presenter Martin Hughes-Games in September 2013.

The centre provides a space for schools, groups and families to learn about south Essex's fantastic ancient woodlands.

Southend Pastors make streets safer place to be

Sterling charity wins top award

THE MEN and women who patrol the borough's streets at night to make sure revellers are safe have received the "Oscar" of voluntary service awards.

The sterling work Southend Street Pastors do for the community has been recognised with the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service for 2016 – the highest award a voluntary group can receive in the UK.

Southend Street Pastors has been helping vulnerable people by taking their faith and practical assistance onto the streets almost every Friday and Saturday night since May 2005.

Andrew Moring, executive councillor for corporate and community support, said: "Many congratulations to Southend Street Pastors on what is a fantastic achievement. The group's work in the community is second to none and we are delighted these volunteers have been recognised with this well-deserved national honour. They are a credit to Southend."

The pastors offer help to tourists and nightclub goers, and rough sleepers by giving out sleeping bags, hot drinks, water and flip-flops.

They also clear up broken glass and dispose of bottles to prevent them from being used as weapons. The group on the streets is supported by a team of prayer pastors who pray for the team, and particularly for any incidents reported to them by the volunteers.

John Simmons, chairman of the pastors' management group, and Wendy Shewring, one of the team leaders, attended a garden party at Buckingham Palace on May 19 where they met the Queen and members of the Royal Family, along with other winners of this year's award.

Southend Street Pastors is one of 193 charities, social enterprises and voluntary groups to receive the prestigious award this year.

The awards were created in 2002 to celebrate the Queen's Golden Jubilee, and winners are announced each year on June 2 – the anniversary of Her Majesty's Coronation.

Growing together

THERE is plenty happening in Southend's Growing Together gardens, which are run by Trust Links a local independent charity.

Organic vegetables are coming on so well they are being sold in £3 veggie bags, and the first asparagus crop has recently been harvested; it takes three years to grow from seed and is cut in the third year.

Herbs, radishes, tomato plants, sweet pea plants, rhubarb, lettuces and broad beans are a few of the offerings now growing in the garden, as well as a variety of flowers, and the chickens are laying eggs too.

Trust Links works to aid wellbeing and provide mental health support through its gardens.

Charity CEO Matt King said: "Under the Growing Together Gardens brand, we offer therapeutic gardening, training and other services to help people experiencing difficult times find a path to recovery."

"We also support adults with learning disabilities and work with children and young people and carers of every age."

"Those who care for those who need care, often find their social life declines and we aim to help carers reconnect to their own lives finding ways to meet up with others who understand."

Veggie Bags can be ordered direct from TrustLinks by calling 01702 213134 and collected at any time.

Each one contains a mixed selection of freshly picked-from-the-garden salad and vegetables ready to eat.

The gardens are at 7 Fairfax Drive, Westcliff, SS0 9AG; Elm Road, next to the Woodlands, Shoeburyness, SS3, and a new one can be found at Kiln Road (behind the Castle Point Council offices), Benfleet, SS7 1TF.

Anyone who would like to find out more, volunteer, or pay a visit can contact 01702 213134.

Two trapped by tide

THE Southend-on-Sea RNLI Search and Rescue Hovercraft was launched at 8.30am on Saturday after the coastguard received a mayday call from two people trapped by the rising tide off Wakering Stairs.

The crew found the pair sitting on a quad bike stuck near Blacktail Spit, between Shoeburyness and Foulness Island.

They were returning to shore on the bikes after surveying cockle beds but ran into mud.

They wore protective clothing and were equipped with distress flares and a marine radio, which they used to call the coastguard.

The pair were taken to Wakering Stairs, where they were met by Southend mobile coastguard unit.

No medical attention was required.

Photography and graphics are part of Seevic College students' Summer Art and Design exhibition at the Focal Gallery, Forum Library, Elmer Square.

Tad Blower, programme area manager for creative and performing arts at the Runnymede Close college, said: "The students have produced some really engaging fine art and graphic outcomes, and it is great when such an established

Relive life in Norman times

UNIQUE: Mountfitchet Castle has been recreated on its original site

MOUNTFITCHET Castle is unique. It is the only medieval castle and Norman village reconstructed on its original site to exist in the world.

The castle was built following the Norman conquest of England by the Mountfitchet family and constructed on high ground with a ringwork defence, enclosing around 0.5 acres.

In the 1980s it was reconstructed as a tourist attraction – an open-air living history museum experience where the visitor can travel back in time over 900 years and witness life in a medieval motte and bailey castle.

During a visit you can explore the castle and roam through the Norman village hidden behind the walls, wander in and out of the many houses and view the scenes, smell the log fires burning and feel the ambience of a bygone lifestyle.

The site is also complete with livestock that would have been kept by people during the period that the castle was in use, so you can meet and hand feed the tame fallow deer and other rescued animals that roam freely throughout the 10-acre site.

While at Mountfitchet Castle don't forget to visit The House on the Hill Toy Museum, which is included in the entry price.

It contains the largest toy collection in the world with more than 80,000 items from the Victorian era to the 1990s.

Rather poor show at end of the pier

ON the last Bank holiday Monday, along with some friends we walked the pier.

We tried to use the one working lift from the high street down to the seafront, but because it was working so slowly we gave up, as did many others. It was a grey, windy day and when we got to the end of the pier we waited in a queue for more than half an hour to get a coffee.

All the tables outside were full and littered with dirty cups which we cleared ourselves.

The large side room, which was empty, was shut when it should have been open for the many customers.

When we waited to get the train back, there was no shelter apart from one small train coach used as a waiting room that was already packed with people. I wonder if this is the way to encourage visitors to Southend.

Profligacy at college car park

A YEAR or so ago during the revamp of the car park at Seevic College a magnificent set of gates and a wall were built at the main entrance. A couple of months later they disappeared, replaced by builders' barriers. Now I notice the bricklayers are back constructing another magnificent edifice.

I was wondering what the story behind this profligacy was.

Democracy and freedom at stake

LOTS of interesting comments and opinions are being published in all sorts of ways by all types of people from all ethnic backgrounds.

This is what makes Britain great, the fact that we live in a democracy with freedom of speech. We used to be self-governed but are now being increasingly controlled by Europe with unelected leaders.

The choice to be made on June 23 is whether you wish to belong to a democracy or a dictatorship and I know what I prefer. You are not voting for the status quo because staying in Europe is an acceptance of future changes with increased power to other countries (mainly Germany) and the weakening of our democratic system.

We hear many opposite economic arguments from both sides and if you understand them you need to guess who is telling the truth. Everyone needs to decide if Britain is better off if overpopulated due to immigration and whether we are safer with stronger border control. Whatever happens will have little effect on me because I'm getting closer to ending my session on this planet, but I know that Britain must not give up our history by surrendering to a dictatorship. Our ancestors fought for British freedom, for us, our children and grandchildren.

Are we really going to give this up?

Keith Little

Being in EU won't solve our problems

LES Harrington gave an impressive list of achievements over the last 60 years (YA, June 3) but surely he doesn't believe this is all due to belonging to the EU.

The UK would probably have instigated these changes anyway, it's called progress, or does he believe the UK (a world leader in most things) is unable to act on its own and needs guidance from our European neighbours.

The thing that bothers me about this type of statement from both sides of the argument is neither side acknowledges there are good or bad points they should include in their points of view. For example in the case of Mr Harrington's list he omits to mention religious intolerance, people trafficking, gang warfare, burning of flags, criminals we can't deport from or stop entering the country, beggars on the streets of London and so on.

The "In" Keith Little letter of the same date is posturing of our island fortress, surrendering to German control, two world wars and so on.

No mention of anything good from Europe. Wouldn't it be better to make a judgement on known facts (not fanciful conjectures) and common sense.

For example with more than 1.5million or so people unemployed, housing shortages, strains on the NHS and education, why would you invite more people into the country?

And please don't tell me UK residents are incapable of doing the jobs available.

As for trade, can you honestly see Germany stop selling us their cars, France their cheese and wine or Spain and Greece turning away UK holidaymakers? No, and neither can I.

They need us as much as we need them. The new minimum wage is a lot higher than wages in some European countries and will therefore entice many immigrants to come here, and who can blame them.

With a glut of labour in the marketplace the new minimum wage would soon become the new maximum wage, no wonder bosses want to remain in the EU.

I think we have some serious problems to solve in this country and I am not sure being a member of the EU is at all helpful.

Council tax rebate from new rulers?

BEFORE the Tories, by courtesy of UKIP, regained control at the local elections they often castigated the ruling Lab-LibDem-Ind coalition for raising council tax.

I myself have been firstly £2 and later £7 down per month.

So can I fairly look to our revived local rulers to rectify this situation of which they so heartily disapproved?

If they can't face restoring all £7 to me then I would settle for say £4.50p less to stump up each month.

Our MP, Sir David Amess, should have resumed his liaison with the new, approval-restored council, so there should be a better chance now of having the Conservative councillors doing the right thing to earn Sir David's approbation, which virtue all us residents would return to him in spades.

After all, ultimate proof of worth is evinced by one's bank balance, as all good Tories have always known.

So come on, Blue Brigade, and put our money where your mouth is!

Yours with bated breath,
Bob Pulham

CONVERTING your loft for storage is one of the easiest conversions you can do – and one of the cheapest.

Loft conversions are great storage solutions for all of your unwanted and even wanted goods, or a great place to keep items out of sight for a few months or even years.

If you are planning a family, you may need the extra storage room to put your baby clothes in, or you may want to put some of your current possessions into the loft to clear some space.

Convert your attic for anything with Loftman

Using loft space as storage is also a popular option if you have a commercial business downstairs and need more room to store work belongings, giving your business the space to expand without the need to move.

Loftman's luxury storage rooms can include the strengthening of the loft joists, flooring, lighting, access, roof insulation, stud walls, windows and ready to skim plasterboard throughout.

It can also install access doors into the eaves – offering valuable storage space on both sides of the room.

Depending on what you want to store in your loft will determine how much work needs to be done to create the extra loft space. Luxury storage rooms are surprisingly affordable at just a fraction of the cost of a standard loft conversion.

For example, a loft conversion on an average sized two bedroom terrace house costs just £3,999, including supply and fitting.

DREAM ROLE FOR HAYLEY

By Liz Wade

features@yellowad.co.uk

CAST: Hayley Tamaddon as Roxie Hart and John Partridge as Billy Flynn

WHEN Coronation Street and Emmerdale favourite, Hayley Tamaddon, saw Ruthie Henshall playing Roxie Hart in the West End production of Chicago, she thought that one day she would play the part.

Forward several years and the dream has come true as Hayley is currently on a national tour of the award-winning musical, with the likes of EastEnders actor and West End leading man, John Partridge, and former prison warden and The X Factor winner, Sam Bailey.

Opening at the New Theatre Oxford in February, Chicago has been travelling the length and breadth of the country, and will soon be appearing at Cliffs Pavilion, Southend, for a six-day run from June 27, to July 2.

While Chicago may have originally hit the stage in Broadway and the West End in the 1970s, it was not until its revival in the 1990s that it saw huge success, becoming the second longest running show in Broadway, and the longest running American musical in West End history.

"I think it's always been ahead of its time, and the second time round it got people interested," says Hayley.

"It's not exactly your average show, the cast wear one black costume throughout, and they leave little to the imagination.

"The songs are infectious. The choreography is unique. I remember going to watch Ruthie Henshall play Roxie in the West End thinking, one day I'll play that part."

While Hayley believes the fact the production was ahead of its time led to it achieving success second time around, does she feel the 2002 film version helped Chicago to stand the test of time as it continues to pull in audiences?

"Yes kind of," says Hayley. "I've spoken to a lot of audience members who said they'd never seen the show only the film and weren't sure what to expect from the musical. But it does give people a good idea of the story."

Based on real life events back in the roaring 1920s, night-club singer

Roxie Hart shoots her lover and along with cell block rival, Velma Kelly, they fight to keep from death row with the help of smooth talking lawyer, Billy Flynn, played by EastEnders favourite John Partridge.

Trying too hard to raise a laugh

THE BOSS (15, 99 mins)

WHAT a difference two years makes. In the summer of 2014, actress Melissa McCarthy and husband Ben Falcone ended her winning streak of hilarious big-screen comedies with the misfiring road movie Tammy, which they co-wrote and he directed.

Love and marriage didn't come together in a script packed with belly laughs.

Unperturbed by Tammy's critical mauling, McCarthy and Falcone rekindle their unholy alliance in front of and behind the camera for this brash comedy about an egocentric businesswoman, who is forced to rebuild her life after a stint behind bars.

The Boss improves on its predecessor in one respect; it is sporadically funny and the ebullient leading lady strains every sinew in her single-minded quest to milk laughs from pratfalls. A throwaway visual gag of a mouthguard is silly enough to induce snorts of derision, while a scene of sisterly bonding over what to wear to a first date showcases McCarthy's gift for physical humour (at the expense of her co-star's blushes).

But husband and wife haven't learnt from past transgressions. They haven't invested enough time in fully realising the characters, some gags lack punchlines, and in the closing act, they risk a hostile takeover from mawkish sentiment.

Michelle Darnell (McCarthy) was raised at the Blessed Sisters Of Mercy orphanage, where efforts to find the youngster a loving, family ended in disappointment.

Emboldened by her humiliating ordeal,

Michelle becomes America's 47th richest woman until her dubious ethics result in a five-year prison sentence for insider trading.

She emerges without any friends to greet her. Her bodyguard Tito (Cedric Yarbrough) has abandoned her and long-suffering personal assistant Claire Rawlings (Kristen Bell) has a daughter Rachel (Ella Anderson) to nurture. In desperation, Michelle turns up unannounced on Claire's doorstep and takes up temporary residence on a temperamental sofa bed.

From this low-rent headquarters, Michelle resolves to rebuild her empire by creating a flourishing chocolate brownie business from Claire's moreish secret recipe.

Moderate success brings the shamed business mogul back into contact with her aggrieved rival, Renault (Peter Dinklage), and former mentor Ida Marquette (Kathy Bates). Meanwhile, single mother Claire nervously prepares for a date with nice guy Mike (Tyler Labine).

The Boss is a pleasant, fleeting diversion that fulfils the most basic requirement of a comedy; it makes you laugh.

McCarthy barrels through every frame with gusto and Bell dutifully plays the straight woman caught in the eye of the tornado.

Some of the giggles are inelegant and hard won but it's a vast improvement over the tumbleweeds of Tammy.

Effort exceeds reward throughout Falcone's film, but on the few occasions the script, performances and direction align, it is genuinely funny and sweet.

Released: June 10
RATING: 5.5/10

'I love Roxie. I feel really blessed'

Created by John Kander, with lyrics by Fred Ebb and choreography by legendary Bob Fosse, six Tony, two Olivier, one Grammy, two Bafta and six Academy Award-winning Chicago's sexy, sassy score includes All That Jazz and Razzle Dazzle.

"It's a dream come true for me to play this role," says Hayley. "I love Roxie. She's feisty. My favourite number is the Roxie monologue and dance routine with the boys it's when I feel the most relaxed on stage weirdly."

Hayley is loving being on tour with John Partridge and Sam Bailey, who plays Mama Morton in the production.

Since winning the 10th series of The X Factor, Sam's debut single, Skyscraper, reached the Christmas number one, and her 2014 debut album, The Power of Love, reached number one in the album charts.

"We have a giggle," says Hayley. "Sam provides me with endless cups of tea and Jonny often pops into my dressing room with a gin and tonic after the show. That's a treat."

While Hayley is a familiar face to many on television, having played Delilah Dingle in Emmerdale and Andrea Beckett in Coronation Street, she is no stranger to the stage. But is there one she prefers?

"That's the hardest question to answer. I was a latecomer to TV. I got my first break at 27 and it changed my life," she says.

"I absolutely love the stage. It's live, you can't make mistakes, and you get an applause at the end of the show. Unlike TV, where no one claps you and if you make a mistake you can go again."

"But there's something very magical about being 'on set' in a studio with all the cameras and scenery and lights, and I've fallen in love with it."

After the tour finishes in Bristol on July 9, Hayley is planning a big holiday.

With the part of Roxie now under her belt, along with roles in shows such as Grease, A Chorus Line, Boogie Nights, Mamma Mia!, Fame and The Rocky Horror Show, are there any other musicals or roles she has always dreamed of doing?

"It was always Roxie. Always," she adds. "And now I've achieved it I feel really blessed."

For tickets to see Chicago at the Cliffs Pavilion, Southend, between June 27 and July 2, visit southendtheatres.org.uk or call the box office on 01702 351135.

H EAD to Thames Chase Forest Centre in Cranham for plenty of fun, events and activities this summer.

The centre, at Broadfields, in Pike Lane, at the heart of the Thames Chase Community Forest, is not only surrounded by a landscape of woods, meadows, ponds and paths to explore, but is also home to so much more.

Every weekend from April to October, as well as during school holidays, the centre runs a cycle hire scheme which is a fantastic way of exploring this part of the community forest.

At just £3 for half-an-hour and £5 for an hour, per adult or child cycle, and buggy or tag-a-long, it is fantastic value-for-money, with safety cycle helmets supplied free of charge.

While exploring the grounds around the Forest Centre, which is housed in a group of historic farm buildings including a 17th century Essex barn, you will find plenty of things to keep the children amused including a play trail and playground.

Its event programme also offers something for everyone, including a market from 10am to 3pm on the third Sunday of every month where you can pick up local produce and crafts.

Up-and-coming events include a Concert on the Meadow with Brentwood School Big Band on Sunday, June 26.

The event, which runs from 2-

EXPLORE: Thames Chase Forest Centre

6pm, with music from the band from 3-5pm, will offer an afternoon of free entertainment, for which parking is just £2.

A barbecue and beer tent will be available and donations on the day will go to the Thames Chase Trust.

There will be Jazz in the Barn on Friday evenings on July 15 and August 19, from 8-11pm, featuring Dave Browning's Jazz Band.

Tickets, which need to be booked in advance, cost £12 and those purchasing them can take their own drinks and nibbles.

A Young at Heart Cycling event will take place from 1.30pm to 4pm on Wednesday, July 13, for those who would just like to try a cycle.

The event, which costs £6 per person and includes cycle hire and refreshments, will raise money to help maintain and run the Forest Centre.

Fancy that!

W ITH an anxiety-inducing summer of sport ahead of us, 43 per cent of residents in the south east are set to argue with their other half over watching too much sport, finds research conducted by Grosvenor Casinos Southend.

With the Rio Olympics, European Football Championships, British F1 Grand Prix and Wimbledon just some of the events taking place, fans are spoilt for choice with what is set to be an extraordinary summer of sport.

The survey found that 57 per cent of people from the south east will stay up to the early hours or get up in the middle of the night to watch sport this summer, as fans desperately try to catch every minute of the action. However, men seem to be most interested in getting up to watch sport, with 77 per cent confessing to losing sleep to watch the big events compared to only 44 per cent of women.

What's more, productivity at work will be hit with more than a third of people in the south east admitting to watching at least one hour of sports during the working day, and even three out of 10 workers going one step further by skipping work all together in an attempt to watch their favourite sporting events.

A total of 26 per cent of south east locals are set to spend more than £100 or more watching sport this summer, through TV subscriptions, takeaways and tickets to see the events live.

The survey also found that 58 per cent of women will avoid watching sport with their other half by reading, leaving the house or watching something else in a different room; and 68 per cent of men would rearrange plans to watch sport this summer compared to only 41 per cent of women, including cancelling a date, a night out with friends and some even going as far as cancelling a holiday.

To celebrate the extraordinary summer of sport Grosvenor Casinos has created what it believes to be the world's smallest travelling casino, a fully loaded London taxi complete with a dealer.

The taxi will be travelling the UK as part of Grosvenor Casinos' wider Play Your Way campaign highlighting the brand's in-casino and online experiences.

Qigong {pronounced chee-gong} also seen as 'Chi Kung' or 'Chi Gung' Qigong can be thought of as 'moving meditation', using posture, flowing movements and deep breathing techniques to develop an awareness of the mind and body, to bring the internal energy into balance. Qigong tends to use repetition of the same moves in short sequences unlike a style of Tai Chi that can be difficult to learn. Loose clothing and flat shoes are required and NO mat is necessary.

Mazda3 stands out in crowded market

By John Murdoch

THE handsome Mazda3 is now an even more attractive option with the introduction of a new 1.5-litre diesel engine.

Until then the only diesel you could specify in the 3 was the powerful 2.2-litre borrowed from the much larger 6 family saloon.

That engine delivered power but its size meant the 3 was at a disadvantage compared to its rivals. With the new smaller unit first introduced in the Mazda2 supermini, the 3 is now able to match its competitors in a busy sector. Now in its third generation the 3 offers bold looks excellent handling and superb build quality.

The Mazda's style helps it stand out from some of the other offerings in the compact family car sector and it also offers bags of standard equipment, good performance and a comfortable upmarket interior.

There is a clear family resemblance to the Mazda6 and most of its design cues are taken from the larger saloon with its swooping curves and sharp creases. Its low roof and rising waistline give it a sporty stance and it is a looker from every angle.

All versions of the 3 get alloy wheels and body-coloured door handles and mirrors and some models get xenon headlights and LED running lights while sport models also benefit from larger 18-inch alloys. Inside the quality is excellent with soft-touch materials where they should be and the dashboard is neatly styled.

All models get a seven-inch touchscreen for the infotainment and sat-nav system which is an option on cheaper models. It can also be controlled by a rotary dial on the centre console and the system is easy to use once you get used to it.

There is plenty of room for four adults to travel in real comfort and five would be fine for shorter journeys. Unlike many competitors the Mazda3 is available as a five-door hatchback or as a fastback – which is a four-door saloon and in my opinion is better looking.

In this country the hatch is the volume model but both are available in a selection of engines and trims.

This car was the fastback featuring all Mazda's fuel-efficient SKYACTIV technology and the new 1.5-litre diesel which is good for 105ps. It is also a very quiet engine as well as being frugal and features stop/start technology.

The steering is sharp and direct and the 3 is a fine driver's car. The ride is smooth and the suspension deals well with even the poorest surfaces. It is a quiet cruiser on motorways and fun on twisty back roads.

The 3 enjoys a five-star Euro NCAP safety rating and all models get six airbags, stability control and a city safe low-speed collision system as standard.

Top models get automatic lights and wipers plus parking sensors. The boot is not huge at 364 litres but there are plenty storage areas in the cabin and with rear seats folded the hatch version offers a substantial 1,263 litres.

Mazda has a reputation for reliability which helps it appeal to private buyers and fleet customers. Prices start at £17,095 and in Sport Nav trim costs £21,945.

For that you get the larger alloys, an adaptive front lighting system, front fogs with chrome surrounds, reversing camera and front and rear parking sensors. You also get a head-up display, and a premium Bose sound system with nine speakers and DAB radio plus sat nav.

The fastback matches the price of the hatchback throughout the range with an automatic option adding £1,200.

In a crowded market the 3 stands out for its blend of style, economy and quality.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1964.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1964.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. Royal London One-Day
Cup, 1st Central County

Sussex 271 (50 overs)

Essex 275/5 (49 overs)

Essex (2pts) won by 5 wickets

Brian Jeeves reports

NEW Zealander Jesse Ryder hit an impressive century as Essex recorded their second Royal London One-Day Cup, South Group victory in as many days, this time seeing off Sussex Sharks by five wickets at Hove.

After Essex offered the hosts the opportunity to bat first Chris Nash became their first victim, snared in the gloves of wicket-keeper James Foster off the bowling of New Zealander Matthew Quinn for nine.

Ed Joyce and Luke Wright got the scoreboard moving for Sussex, putting on 108 before Wright was stumped by Foster off Ashar Zaidi for 50.

Joyce followed soon after, caught Ashar Zaidi bowled David Masters for 73, a knock that included eight fours and a six.

Ashar Zaidi then claimed his second wicket of the afternoon.

Matt Machan was cheaply removed off the slow left-armers' bowling for just two, leaving the hosts floundering on 144/4.

But the steady partnership of Ross Taylor and Ben Brown helped Sussex to get past 200.

The pair put together a fifth wicket stand of 61.

But Brown eventually fell, caught Foster off Ryan ten Doeschate, while Taylor hit a 50 before becoming Quinn's second victim. Lawrence was the man displaying safe hands in the field as Essex put pay to the hosts' top order.

A flurry of late wickets saw Quinn continue to torment the hosts.

He finished with figures of 4/71 as Essex restricted the hosts to 271 from their 50 overs.

The Essex response started positively, with Tom Westley and Nick Browne putting together an opening stand of 67.

Westley's 110 on Sunday had helped Essex to a dramatic last-over victory over Hampshire at the Rose Bowl, Southampton, as they chased down 311 to win by three wickets.

Browne was the first of the openers to go, stumped by wicket-keeper Ben Brown. Beer was the beneficiary with the ball.

Westley soon followed, caught by George Garton off his own delivery for 32.

Ryder stood firm, hitting an impressive century while those around him fell cheaply.

His big-hitting stand included a partnership of 83 with ten Doeschate. The all-rounder eventually succumbed to Chris Jordan after a swashbuckling innings that included six fours and three sixes.

Dutchman ten Doeschate produced another notable knock, hitting an unbeaten 48 to help Essex over the line.

Ashar Zaidi swept Ajmal Shahzad to the boundary to secure Essex back-to-back victories on the road.

They now turn their attention to the NatWest T20 Blast, South Group, when they take on Middlesex at the Essex County Ground on Friday, June 10 (7pm).

Non-league round-up

Chelmsford bolster squad with signings

By Brian Jeeves

NATIONAL League South outfit Chelmsford City have added to their squad with the signing of goalkeeper Joe Welsh from St Albans City and Hemel Hempstead Town defender Adam Bailey-Dennis.

Welsh started his career with Southend United but failed to break into the Shrimpers first team and moved to Histon, where he made more than 50 appearances.

Bailey-Dennis began at Colchester United and had spells with Bromley, Bury Town and Concord Rangers.

Clarets fans' favourite Rory McAuley has left the Melbourne Stadium for Ryman Premier Leaguers Lowestoft Town.

National League Dagenham & Redbridge have acquired the services of highly sought after Waltham Abbey striker Christian Assombalonga and promising young frontman Fejiri Okenabirhie.

Assombalonga, whose older brother Britt had a successful loan period with Southend United before starring for Championship club Nottingham Forest, joins the Daggers after bagging 31 goals in 34 matches for the Ryman League Division One North outfit. Okenabirhie started his career as a youth with Arsenal before going to Stevenage in 2014 on a pro deal. Loan spells with Bedford Town, Cambridge City, Royston and Farnborough followed, and after being released by the Sky Bet League Two club he had spells with Millwall's under-21s, and Ryman Premier Leaguers Harrow Borough. Daggers striker Christian Doidge has left the club to join fellow National League outfit Forest Green Rovers. The Welshman made 23 appearances for the Daggers, scoring eight goals as they slipped out of the Football League last season.

Ryman Premier Division outfit Canvey Island have signed winger Jack Simmons from National League South club Dartford. The 21-year-old originally arrived at Park Lane in 2014 from Leiston, making 32 appearances and winning the Gulls Supporters' Player of the Year. He returned to Canvey last season for a six-match loan that is now permanent.

Ryman League Division One North new boys Bowers & Pitsea have announced that five of last season's Essex Senior League winning squad will be leaving the Len Salmon Stadium ahead of the new campaign. Billy Sendall, Dan Trenkel, Jack Gardner, Chid Onokwai and Ross Adams will all be plying their trade elsewhere as boss Rob Small looks to reshape his side following Bowers first promotion in 42-years.

Ex-Great Woking Rovers player-manager Trenkel will join ProKit UK Essex Olympian League club Catholic United, while Sendall, Gardner, Onokwai and Adams sighted work commitments and studying, plus the increased travelling in the Ryman League as to reasons for leaving the club.

Essex Senior League Basildon United have appointed Simon Kingdon as assistant manager to new boss Aaron Bloxham. The Bee's have lined up a pre-season match with Spartan South Midland Premier League outfit Wembley on Saturday, July 30 (3pm) at Gardiners Close.

Basildon have warm-up dates with ProKit UK Essex Olympian League clubs Old Southendian, on Saturday, July 16, Springfield, Saturday 23, while Catholic United will face a Bee's XI on Saturday 30.

ProKit UK Essex Olympian Leaguers White Ensign have appointed Brett Munyard as their new manager. He joins the Southend-based side after leading Hannakins Farm to second place in the Brentwood Sunday League Premier Division as well as retaining the League Cup.

Garon Park to host Women's ICC World Cup qualifier

REVAMPED Garon Park, home of Old Southendian & Southchurch Cricket Club, is to host several high profile fixtures over the coming weeks including a Women's ICC World Cup qualifier between Scotland and the Netherlands.

The match from Tuesday, July 12-15, is the standout event, with the countries also scheduled to meet in a Women's ECB one-day fixture on Sunday, July 10 (11am).

The Southend venue, which has staged festival cricket for both Essex and the Unicorns, has undergone improvements, boosting its ability to both cricket and football.

The Garon Park Community Interest Company is now responsible for the site, including the adjacent football pitches and the area bordered by the school and shopping area.

The progression has seen some 500 youth and adult football players and spectators use the ground most weekends. The pavilion has been extended so that more than 40 people can be accommodated for sit-down lunches, while a changing room has been converted into a cellar to support a new bar in the main pavilion area. Future plans include a new car park, a second cricket square, including a non-grass wicket, and possible funding for floodlit 3G football.

Peter Butler, chairman of Essex and Southend Sports Trust and a general committee member of Essex County Cricket Club, said: "The people of Southend together with the new community interest company have made substantial progress over the last year. Garon Park is well on the way to becoming a sporting hub of which the town can be really proud."

What's causing your pain in the BUTT? Sciatica

Jon Handley-Collins, Doctor of Chiropractic

Sciatica "Si-at-ika" is a group of symptoms involving pain in the buttock and back of the leg, only usually on one side of the body. In addition to pain there may be any combination of pins & needles, numbness, tingling and muscle weakness in the affected leg or foot. The true meaning of Sciatica is often misunderstood. The term is merely a group of symptoms and not a diagnosis. This means that if you have been told you have Sciatica, you still have not been given a diagnosis, as the diagnosis is being told what is causing your Sciatica symptoms. Having a correct diagnosis is important because the treatment options for the different causes are very different.

The main causes of Sciatica are:

- Spinal disc herniation: Some people call this a "slipped disc" but what actually happens is the fluid like contents of your spinal disc causes the outer layers of the disc to bulge out. If this bulge is on to a spinal nerve in your lower back, it can cause Sciatica.
- Spinal Stenosis: This is where the hole for your spinal nerve to exit from the spinal canal closes up and puts pressure on the affected nerve, causing Sciatica.
- Piriformis Syndrome: The piriformis is a muscle in your buttock. The Sciatic nerve passes very closely to this muscle and in rare cases passes through the muscle. When this muscle gets tight it can irritate the Sciatic nerve, which can cause Sciatica.

To find out whether Chiropractic can help, a Chiropractor will first conduct a case history and physical exam to narrow a patient's symptoms down to find out what's causing them. This includes neurological, orthopaedic and Chiropractic examinations. If deemed necessary, an X-Ray of the affected area will also be taken.

Then there is a return visit to explain our findings, to tell you what has been found and what needs to be done to sort it out. At the Optimum Spine Centre, (based at 1212 London Road, Leigh on Sea) we are conducting these initial consultations, including X-Rays (if required) and report of findings for just £15 (usually £90).

Give the Centre a call today on 01702 710084.
